Windsor Hotel, 4th Avenue, 46th and 47th Streets,
New York, June 6, 1878.

Messrs. Wm. G. Bell & Co.:
We have used the sample of Poultry Seasoning sent us by you, and commend it to the public, particularly to private families. It is perfect in every way. HAWK, WAITE & WEATHERBEE, per C. B. Waite.

Tremont House, Boston, Aug. 22, 1878.

Messrs. Wm. G. Bell & Co.:
Gentlemen.—The highest compliment I can pay your Poultry Spice
Seasoning is to say that it has been used in this house for the past two years, and during that time it has never failed to give satisfaction.

A. AINSLEE, Steward.

Brevoort House, 5th Avenue, near Washington Square,
New York, Sept. 3, 1878.

Wm. G. Bell & Co.:
Gentlemen.—The Spiced Seasoning prepared by your firm has had a fair trial in the "Brevoort," and given the best satisfaction. It is really a very desirable article.

Yours truly,

NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Blocking One of Jim Anderson's Little Games.

THE NEXT PRESIDENT.

Senator Thurman Being Pushed to the Front.

WADE HAMPTON.

An Eventful Day for South Carolina's Governor.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

A Train Runs into a Washout near Rutland, Vt.

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.

Jim Anderson.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11. Senator Allison yesterday introduced a resolution, which was adopted, calling on the House for all that part of the testimony of James P. Anderson, taken by the Potter committee, referring to Senator Stanley Matthews. It will be recollect that Anderson refused to testify last summer, and now he is in Nevada waiting for a summons and a big mileage allowance. The Senate committee has determined to block his game, and hence have taken this course to get the testimony they want.

The Next Presidency.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11. The friends of Senator Thurman have come to the conclusion that it is his duty to be the Democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio in 1879. They recognize the fact that no Ohio Democrat can be renominated by his party in 1880, unless the State goes Democratic in 1879, and they believe that Thurman is the only man who can beat the Republicans in the contest for the nomination. The result of the election for the Republicans for the Ohio governorship is to be Charles Foster, who is believed to be their strongest man in the State. John Sherman will be the leading Ohio candidate for the Republican nomination in 1880. Senator Thurman's term in the Senate does not expire until 1881, and his resignation of his seat to run for the governorship will be not only a brilliant stroke of politics but an absolute risking of his whole political future on the result in Ohio in 1879.

WADE HAMPTON.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 12. Gov. Hampton's wounded leg was amputated yesterday about six inches below the knee. His immediate friends say that his situation now is not dangerous, and that he stood the operation finely, under the influence of chloroform. The Legislature have elected Gov. Hampton to the United States Senate. The Senators present (29 in all) voted unanimously for Hampton, including the Republicans. The members of the House, with two exceptions, also voted for Hampton.

Fatal Railway Accident.

RUTLAND, Vt., Dec. 11. The evening train from Boston, due here at 9 o'clock last evening, ran into a washout about two and a half miles below Bartonsville. Edward Davis, of Rutland, a fireman, was killed; Christopher Rice, the baggage-master, of Rutland, was badly wounded, and Albert Pratt, engineer, of Rutland, was also wounded. It is reported that one lady is killed, but her name is not given. The railroad and highway were so bad that it was impossible to get to the wreck from Bartonsville for some time.

Telegraphic Notes.

No boat left Fall River for New York last night, on account of the storm.

Simon Cameron charges Wade Hampton with murdering the ex-Senator's brother. He says that Hampton, after Col. Cameron was taken prisoner in the early part of the war, took a carbine and deliberately shot the unarmed prisoner.

Attorney General Devens has not yet placed his resignation in the hands of the President, but may decide to do it at any hour.

The Potter committee met in secret session yesterday and voted to send a sub-committee to New Orleans. The cipher dispatches were not discussed.

Conkling, since his return, is reported to have declared himself in favor of the candidacy of General Grant for President.

William Murphy, who was shot by E. J. Kenee, at Concord, N. H., early Monday evening, is not likely to recover.

The Anchor Mill at Minneapolis, owned and operated by Charles Pillsbury & Co., was burned Monday night. The origin of the fire is stated to be the same as before, in the explosion of flour dust. The mill had 12 runs of stones and employed 20 men. Loss probably $75,000. Insurance $45,500.

[From Our Morning Edition.]

CITY ELECTION--THE FULL VOTE.

The full returns show one of the most sweeping victories for the Sanderson ticket ever achieved in a municipal contest. Sanderson is elected by an overwhelming majority, together with his full Board of Aldermen, Assessor, School Committee and the majority of Councilmen. The vote is the largest ever cast in Lynn in a municipal election, and only two larger have ever been cast in any campaign—the Presidential election of 1876, and the recent State election. This is doubly remarkable, owing to the terribly disagreeable weather, but the determination of the citizens to effect a needed change in the municipal government made them careless of personal comfort in their desire to express their sentiments at the polls.

The following were the regular tickets in the field:—

WORKMEN'S TICKET.
Mayor—Geo. P. Sanderson.
Aldermen—Ward 2, Elias W. Holden; Ward 3, N. D. C. Breed; Ward 4, Levi R. Pierce and Q. A. Towns; Ward 5, Amos Beckford, Jr., and Nathan A. Ramsell; Ward 6, Daniel Mullin and T. B. Homan.

Assessor for Three Years—Henry B. Levering.
School Committee for Three Years—John H. Baldwin, Rev. W. A. Spaulding, Rev. J. C. Harrington, E. N. Leighton.

PEOPLES' TICKET.

Mayor—Samuel M. Bubier.
Aldermen—Elias W. Holden, Isaiah Graves, Florimond B. Mower, Augustus B. Martin, Quincy A. Towns, A. M. Probie, Philip A. Newhall, Daniel Mullin.

Assessor for Three Years—Geo. B. Currier, of Ward 3.

School Committee for Three Years—Sarah B. Shorey, John C. Harrington, Theodore Attwill, Mary J. Bryant.

CITIZENS' AND WORKMEN'S TICKET.

Mayor—Hartwell S. French.
Aldermen—Ward 2, Elias W. Holden; Ward 3, Fredrick H. Lander, Isaiah Graves; Ward 4, Geo. H. Cushman; Ward 5, A. M. Probie, Geo. C. Neal; Ward 6, Geo. H. Harwood, Daniel Mullin.

Assessor for Three Years—Geo. B. Currier.

School Committee for Three Years—Rev. J. C. Harrington, Mrs. Mary J. Bryant, Mrs. John L. Harrington, John R. Baldwin.

The result was a surprise, even to those who had entertained the most sanguine expectations of Sanderson's success. His friends had only claimed 2500 votes, and this number would have handsomely elected him. But his extraordinary vote and the election of nearly his entire ticket was a victory for which his friends could hardly hope, and they are naturally jubilant, while the Bubier supporters are annoyed and dejected.

We give below the vote in full:—

VOTE FOR MAYOR.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.—One square, (twelve lines) one insertion, 75 cents; two insertions, $1.00; three insertions, $1.25; one week, $1.75; one month, $2.50; three months, $7.00; six months, $12.00; one year, $20.00.

—Of the 2,000,000,000 of cigars now annually consumed in this country, about ninety per cent. are of home manufacture.

—A toadstool four feet six inches in circumference, and weighing thirty pounds, is reported as having been found at Elkhorn, Wis.

—The sexton of Dagenham parish, Essex, in England, was buried alive while digging a grave.

—At Gussowka, Russia, a man suspected of incendiarism, causing the death of seventy horses, was thrown by the furious populace into the flames.

—In New Zealand trout fishing is now established as a regular recreation. The fish were originally brought from the river Severn in England, and have increased wonderfully.

—“Death” is the ominous name of a detective employed by the English Apothecaries’ Society to prevent druggists usurping the functions of apothecaries.

—A Boston physician tore up the prescription that he had written for a boy with diphtheria because the mother had no money to pay for it, and within a few hours the boy died for the lack of medicine.

—At Liverpool, several weeks ago, a theatre caught fire, but the people, remembering the fatal effect of panic, as lately seen at a music hall, submitted to police direction and went quietly out.

—The Lilly family of six persons constitute the side show of a Western circus. The father is a sword swallower, the mother is a fat woman, a daughter is a Circassian girl, one son is a contortionist, another—hideously deformed—is a wild man from Borneo, and a third lectures on the curiosities.

—Dr. Brown Sequad, in a late letter to the French Biological Society, states that milk, moderately warmed, if injected slowly into a human artery, will revive a dying patient quite as much as injections of blood. He cites a number of cases in which he has successfully tried the experiment.

—A herder was shot by a robber in Little River County, Ark. Although mortally beast thirty miles to Fort Smith, in order to expose the murderer before death could hide the evidence. He was barely able to give a meagre account of the crime, before he died.

—A Newfoundland dog ran up to two men near Worcester, barked furiously, tugged at their coats, and ran off a little way. Then he returned as before. They at length understood that he wanted them to follow. He conducted them to a pond, where a small dog was in the water and unable, by reason of the smooth, high stone sides, to get out.

—The European migratory quails imported to this country some time ago, in the hope of their taking up a residence here, are heard of now and then in the South, where they have gone to spend the winter. Meanwhile the sporting papers are begging gunners to abstain from shooting these foreign quails until they have time to increase and get a foothold in the United States.

—An Ohio believer in modern miracles made preparations to cut off his right hand, being convinced that in answer to his prayers a new one would grow in its place—a hand that would be holy and all-powerful to heal the sick.” He had constructed a machine like a guillotine to perform the amputation, and was taken into custody on the morning of the day that he had appointed for the act.

—Herbert H. Harlow was very honest and exact in his business, in East Bridgewater, Mass. He was a conspicuous Baptist, too. Before leaving the place he paid every one of his debts, and arranged his affairs so that they could be easily comprehended by whoever might take charge of them. The only persons who could complain of his unexpected departure were his wife and Edward French, for he eloped with Mrs. French.

—A life insurance company refuse to pay the policy on the life of Peter A. Tighe, of Memphis, who died of yellow fever, on the ground that the family cannot furnish the proper certificate. The doctor who attended him, the undertaker who laid him out, and the clergyman who officiated at his funeral, all of whom are necessary to the execution of such certificate, have themselves since died of the fever.

—Some soldiers camped near Springer's Ranch, Kansas, and at night one of them went into the bar-room to play poker with the proprietor. The soldiers soon saw that he was being cheated by Springer, who invariably dealt himself six cards. A protest drew a shot from a revolver, the ball entering the soldier's arm. He ran to his camp for help, and his comrades hastily attacked the ranch, killing Springer and another man and losing one of their own number.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, DEC. 11, 1875.

THE LAND OF NOD.

Far away in the land of Nod,
Where only in dreams man's foot hath trod,
Dwells the Slumber King on his shadow throne,
Where he patiently sits till day is done.
He rises and puts the thinking cap on.
Now as he walks he doth often mutter
And the bairns nod his head while he
Then the elves of sleep as he sees them come,
Quickly lay hold of them one by one,
And fly to the homes of earth, 'tis said.
Where they place a nod on each one's head,
Till the eyes can no longer keep open wide;
Then he head, with the weight, turns from side to side.
And little by little doth on them creep
The wondrous blessing of quiet sleep.

But ere the grown folks find repose
The King's son, Jack Nod, on his tiptoes,
First comes to the children, the cunning elf,
And he brings the sand man as well as himself.
Then the poor, wee people rub, rub their eyes,
Until gentle sleep takes them by surprise,
And they never can tell of what they can think
Just the minute before their last blinky wink.

Sometimes, in the daytime, so I am told,
This same Jack Nod, so cunning and bold,
Throws dust in folks' eyes, the saucy chap,
Which makes them take what is called a nap.

EATEN ALIVE.

The natives of the Marquesas Islands sacrifice to the Gods, and the following is a description of that revolting ceremony:—

"One morning after breakfast, I went on shore. I met Hawkins, who looked sad. I asked him:—"What news of the war party?" He replied, "Captain, I advise you to go on board your ship and stay there to-day."

I asked him, "Why?" He then told me that the war party was coming back and that they had been but too successful; that they had killed all but one of the inhabitants of the other village.

I asked him, "What have they done with that one?"

He shook his old head and replied:—"They are bringing him here."

I said, "What will they do with him?"

He pointed to the beautiful banyan tree, that shaded the terrible place of sacrifice.

My heart turned sick as I looked to where he pointed. He then advised me to return to my ship for the day, but I said, "No; I will stay on shore and try to save this man." The pilot shook his head, and told me that I could do nothing; and again advised me to go on board. How often have I wished since that I had taken his advice, for I would have been spared the cruel scene, but I thought I could do some good, so I remained.

Soon we heard the Kanakas yelling; we hastened down to the beach, and there were the war canoes rounding the point, at the south side of the bay. The Kanakas had all assembled to welcome the war party. As soon as the canoes had reached the beach, a tall savage bounded on shore with a yell.

Hawkins, the pilot, stood behind me. He grasped my arm, and said, "Captain, for God's sake, come away! Don't stay here, don't stay here."

I asked him, "Why?"

He said, "My God, don't you see it is a little girl; and as I looked at the savage who had first sprang ashore, I saw that he held in his arm a bright little girl of but a few summers."

I said, "Is that the prisoner?" and he said, "Yes." I told him that they surely would not kill that little girl. "Yes," he replied, if it was a baby one week old these devils would sacrifice it."

The Kanakas now all sprang on shore. As soon as the Long Chief got on shore, I ran to him and asked him, "What are you going to do with that little girl?" And he replied, "The Prophets will sacrifice her to the Gods." I begged him to give me the little girl, but he said, "Captain, you are my son, but I can't do this for you."

Then the man who had the little girl handed her to one of the old hags, who professed to be a prophetess, and she took the child and started for the place of sacrifice, all the natives singing a war song. There was a small stream to cross. When she reached this, she pressed the child to her breast, and grabbing its tender little cheek, which had never received anything but a caress, in her teeth, she bit out a mouthful, and ate it.

Not knowing the danger I ran, I sprang forward to take the child from her fiendish grasp, but the Long Chief seeing my intention, sprang upon me and hurled me back, as if I had been a child in his powerful grasp. "Captain, you must not do that. If you would attempt to take the child from the prophetess my people would kill you and I could not save you," said he. The pilot took hold of me, and begged of me to come away, for I could do no good. I appealed to the chief as my father, (for he had adopted me for some kindness that I had done him before,) I beseeched him to give me the child. Offered to pay him for her. I told him that I would give him a new whale boat, and powder and lead and a musket, and did everything that I could to tempt him, but all in vain. He told me that he could not save the child for he had not the power. It was one of the customs of his people and he could not break them and retain his power, and that his own people would kill him if he tried to interfere with the prophetess.

After she had crossed the stream she passed the child to another old hag, and when she took her she bit off the other cheek of the screaming child. Carrying her a short distance, she passed her to the third one, who bit out a piece of her breast, and she in turn passed her to another, who bit out another piece and ate it. The child was followed by women and children singing and dancing.

One woman had a little child in her arms, but little smaller than the one that was being eaten alive. She had a piece of bread fruit in her hand, which she was eating. When the poor little stranger, in her fright and fearful agony, reached forth her little hand as to ask for a piece of the bread fruit, I could stand no more. I had begged and tried to buy. I had threatened that I would bring my crew on shore and attack the chief and his people and spare none, as he had spared none, but he only smiled at me, for he knew that I could do nothing, as in fact he could do nothing to save the child. Sick at heart, I turned back and left the poor little sufferer to her fate. When I reached the accursed sacrifice-ground, for then at that time I could not enter (although I did so afterwards), as I learned the next day, they offered her up to their heathen god.

A Fact Worth Knowing.

I was so unfortunate this morning as to spill on the marble top of one of mine host's washstands enough ink to make a circular spot of three inches in diameter. I wiped up the ink immediately, but the stain, like the "damn'd spot" on Lady Macbeth's hand, would "not out." I then applied about one cent's worth of citric acid dissolved in about half an ounce of water, and lo! the stain wholly vanished in less than four minutes, while the marble received no injury whatever. I give this fact to you for the benefit of the ladies.—Cor. Philadelphia Times.

CITY AND TOWN.

—Gold, 100.13.
—Some inartistic citizens have criticized the appearance of the ring which embellished the election returns of the ITEM. They should bear in mind that it was a bad ring before it got "busted."

—The Reporter's city election news this morning was interesting to its patrons—very!

—Summer cottages are already in demand for next season. Waldo Thompson, Esq., has just leased to R. Lombard, Jr., of Galesburg, Ill., the mansion of Capt. Harrison Neal, on Summer Place, Lynn. Mr. Lombard will take possession June 1st.

—Elegant designs in silver ware just received at S. C. Newhall's jewelry store, No. 44 Market street (at bottom prices).

—The Texas Tribune says, "the late atmospheric freshness has brought on many cases of coughs and colds, and Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is in greater demand than ever." Price, only 25 cents.

—What is one of the Lynn editors giving us—taffy?

POLICE COURT.

Dec. 11.—Those who expected to see a batch of drunks in court, as usual after election day, were disappointed. The average citizen had found so much exhilaration in the returns themselves that he needed no other stimulant, and the defeated candidates had no taste for luxuries, especially as perfect sobriety is an essential in aeronautic experiments, and it was pretty generally known at an early hour that the balloon would positively rise as announced.

John S. Stauchfield, who stole a vest at the New England Clothing Store, Monday, will spend two months in the House of Correction. He begged the mercy of the Court, saying that he had an aged mother 75 years old to support, Lawrence. The Judge colloquized to the effect that stealing vests was a poor way to support an aged parent, and the old lady will have to struggle along without the aid of her son.

John Rice, a good-looking, healthy young chap, who ought to have lost of days' work in him, was sent to the Bridgewater State Workhouse for four months on a charge of vagrancy. John had apparently left home quite young, and worn the same clothes ever since. The result was of course peculiar.

THE ELECTED CANDIDATES.

It is very difficult to judge of the strength of the incoming city government, since so few of them have held office before. In point of experience, therefore, they are weak, and it's somewhat to be regretted that more of the members have not done service previously. Most of the work will be entirely new to the members, but we trust there is ability and common sense enough among them to bridge all difficulties and give us a first-class city government. There will undoubtedly be several changes at the City Hall, but there is a disposition among many of the new members not to displace old and experienced men whose counsel and judgment they may often need, by yielding to the desire of the more impulsive for a new deal all round.

THE ELECTION RETURNS.

We printed and sold about 3000 of our edition containing the full election returns this morning. It is gratifying to us not only to feel that we have done our duty in providing the public with the earliest reports of the election, but to know that our efforts are appreciated. The ITEM was on the street shortly after 6 A. M., in time for the earliest risers, and our press was in constant motion until nearly 8. The edition naturally went off like hot cakes. The returns came in very slowly, making it nearly an all-night job for us. A revision of our figures shows but few and trifling errors, which have no effect on the result.

BASE BALL.

There are over three hundred men under contract as ball players with league and international clubs next year.

At the recent league meeting, Buffalo showed a capital stock of $5000, all paid in, and the Cleveland club a capital stock of $4000.

The Internationals this season propose to confine themselves to about six substantial clubs. The clubs so far named are the Uticas, Albany, Springfield and Manchesters.

REAL ESTATE SALE.

Mrs. F. H. Lander, now resident in Washington, has sold on private terms, through Waldo Thompson, to Dr. H. H. Fuller, of 50 Monument Square, Charlestown, the Sea Foam Cottage on the water side of Ocean Street, Lynn, with about 26,000 square feet of land. This is one of the cosiest residences on the North Shore, and after thorough renovation and improvement it will be occupied by Dr. Fuller and his family next summer.

FRIENDLY GIFTS.

A number of friends of Loring M. Rollins and Hebron L. Morrison assembled at Wyoma Trotting Park, Tuesday afternoon, and presented Mr. Rollins with a carriage whip and Mr. Morrison with a sulky whip, both of hand-made make. B. Frank Hodgkins did the necessary talking. An excellent supper was served at the Track House. A male quartette furnished music, and the whole affair was very enjoyable.

TERRIBLE RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

The Track Gives Way Beneath a Moving Railroad Train.

A terrible accident occurred on the Boston, Concord and Montreal Railroad, two miles above East Concord, at about 9 o'clock last evening. The train left the Lowell depot in Boston at 5:35 and was bound for Montreal. It had a good number of passengers, but not as many as it usually carries, on account of the heavy storm. It was going at the time of the accident at the rate of about 15 miles an hour.

At just about 9 P. M., as it was rounding a slight curve two miles north of East Concord, suddenly and without a second's warning the track gave way and the engine plunged headlong down a steep embankment, crushing the trees on its way, and finally plunging a wreck into the earth and mire.

The baggage compartment car was thrown from the track, badly smashed and hurled down the embankment. The regular passenger car was tipped partly over the right, with the rear end resting on the track, and not breaking connection with the sleeper. The sleeper remained on the track and uninjured. The safety of the sleeping car was a most fortunate circumstance, for after the accident there could not be seen in any direction a dwelling or a friendly light.

Where the track gave way there was no culvert of any kind and no stream of water. It was simply a solid road-bed, and was supposed to be in perfect condition, having been inspected at the close of the day. It is believed that the heavy rain caused the water to descend in a mass from the hill on the east side of the track, and by some means to have worked its way under the road-bed, undermining a portion of it, but not showing upon the surface.

No one was killed, but nine persons were injured, some of them seriously. Railroad men consider the escape from death of persons in the baggage and regular passenger car as almost miraculous. The pecuniary loss to the company will be quite large.

ELECTIONS ELSEWHERE.

In Boston Prince's majority over all was 1117. The Aldermanic ticket was evenly divided, and all parties are well represented in the Council. In Worcester Chas. B. Pratt, the Citizens' candidate, was elected with all his Aldermen. In Salem Mayor Oliver was re-elected by about 300 plurality. Lowell re-elected Mayor Richardson, with four Republicans and four Democratic Aldermen. In Newburyport J. J. Currier was elected Mayor over Robert Couch, a Butlerite. A strong City Council was elected. The day was stormy and disagreeable all over the State.

SWAMPSOFT.

THE STORM.

The schooners rode out the gale on Tuesday night nobly, holding fast to their moorings in every instance. The wind was stronger than in the late storm which drove two schooners ashore, though not of so long duration, and the sea was not so rough.

A portion of an elm tree in front of Orlando Millett's residence, Humphrey street, broke from the trunk and fell into the street, about 6 o'clock in the afternoon, from the force of the wind.

A dory hauled up opposite Capt. A. C. Newhall's fish market was lifted from the nest about twenty feet into the air and blown across the street, striking the lamp-post in front of the market, but sustaining no serious damage.

Two panes of glass were blown in in the house of Ezra Wardwell, occupied by Samuel Hooper. The wind has not been stronger in Swampscott this season.

A GOOD DAY.

The Minnebaha brought in 11,200 pounds of cod on Saturday last; "the boys" of Capt. Stone's crew vary in age from 18 to 60 years, and are pretty handy fishermen. On the same day the Mary E. Story landed 7700 pounds, the D and Dart 6500 each, the latter also having 400 pounds of pollock. The Mary E. Story towed out Capt. Caswell, and John brought in 300 pounds in his dory. It was a very good day for fish and the fishers.

OUT IN IT.

The Laughing Waters was out in the gale of Tuesday, but brought in a trip of 2000 pounds of fish, which sold at $1.60. The Jenny P. Phillips also went out but returned without fishing.

Ancient Swampscott.

Next June will occur the 250th anniversary of the settlement of the first white man known to have been an inhabitant of Swampscott. His name was Francis Ingalls, and he built his log house at what is now the junction of Burrill and New Ocean streets, in 1629. He also built the first tannery in New England, near his home on Humphrey Brook. More particulars of the early history of Swampscott down to the present time will be given.

This Evening.

The apron sale and sociable comes off at the Town Hall, this evening. Bear it in mind.

THE ENGINE-BOYS' SUPPER.

The supper at the engine-house of the Atlantics, Saturday evening, Dec. 7, was a grand one, and was well attended. Among those present were the Selectmen, Board of Engineers, other prominent citizens of the town and a delegation of about twenty of the "Tiger" fire lads from Glenmere. Speeches were made by J. P. Palmer, Ivory Emmons, Joseph Stanley, George Hobby, Whitfield Stubbs and others, and a general good time was enjoyed. The committee having charge of the arrangements, which were well carried out, consisted of P. A. Martin, Albert Galecia, Abraham Stone and David Nesbitt, the latter decorating the hall in fine style. Geo. R. Melzard acted as caterer, and gave excellent satisfaction in that capacity. Altogether it was a big time for the Atlantics.

Poor "Ned."

"Ned," as he was always called, was a pet canary raised by Mrs. Ellen Nesbett, in what is called or known as the old "Nesbett house." When the bird was two years old Mrs. Nesbett moved into another house and was gone fourteen years, then moving back, about one year ago. The bird showed signs of old age about a month since, and last week it died in its original home. Ned was the pet of little Mabel, Mrs. Nesbett's only child, who for a time refused to be comforted; it was also considered as one of the family by the entire household, and is much missed from its accustomed place.

AN ILLUSTRATED ITEM.

It seems to be getting quite the fashion in Lynn to illustrate the newspapers. We don't know how this innovation will suit, but we are determined not to be outdone by our enterprising rival. We made our first attempt at the artistic and beautiful Tuesday evening. Of course we cannot yet compete with our esteemed contemporary in delicacy of shading or things like that, but we contend that our first attempt is realistic, appeals strongly to the understanding, and compares favorably with our brother artist-journalist's charming landscapes. It was not necessary for us to label our chromo, "This is a ring," or to direct the eye of a discriminating public to the fact that it had sustained a fracture. It told the admiring reader exactly what we desired to express, and its "ragged edge" plaintively suggested the unpleasant sedentary position of the defeated candidates. We don't republish it to-day, as we propose to have it studded and put on exhibition. But we are encouraged. We have now in stock a fine collection of corrugated lead pipe, ancient and honorable wood cuts and various valuable but obsolete material, and if the public wants this kind of thing we are going to fix them up and rush them out regardless of expense. That's the kind of an artist we are.

GLENMERE.
Anniversary.

The second anniversary of Wenuchs Division, S. of T., was observed by an entertainment at Cushing's Hall, on Monday evening. The attendance was limited, owing to the storm. The entertainment was good, and will be repeated at an early date.

LYNN, MASSACHUSETTS.

LYNN was one of the oldest towns planted in Massachusetts. Its settlement was begun in 1629.

The first white men known to have been inhabitants of Lynn, were Edmund Ingalls, and his brother Francis. In 1630, Thomas Newhall was born, and was the first white child born in Lynn.

In 1632, the first church was gathered. In 1635, Philip Kirtland and Edmund Bridges arrived. They were the first shoemakers known in Lynn. In 1637, the record of the General Court consists of only four words, "Saugust is called Lin." This relates merely to the change of name, the town having been incorporated in 1630. In 1642, the winter was exceedingly cold, with deep snow, and the harbor was passable with teams for five weeks. The Indians said the weather had not been so cold for forty years. In 1648, Edmund Ingalls, the first white inhabitant of Lynn, was drowned, in crossing Saugus River. In 1655, Edmund Farrington built the mill on Water Hill. A pond was dug and the water brought from the old brook by a little canal about half a mile in length. In 1836, it was purchased by Henry A. Breed, who dug a new pond of more than an acre, for a reservoir. In 1659, a road was laid out from Lynn to Marblehead over the Swampscott Beaches, and in 1673, another new road was laid out on the north of the former road, and is now called Essex Street. In 1682, the Meeting House was removed from Shepard Street to the centre of the Common, and rebuilt. It was fifty feet long and forty-four feet wide. It had folding doors on three sides without porches. The roof presented four pediments, and was surmounted by a cupola, with a roof in form of an inverted tunnel. Town Meetings were held here until 1806. In 1686, Oliver Purchis was chosen Town Clerk. In 1717, two great snow storms covered the ground so deep with snow, that people, for some days, could not pass from house to house. It was from ten to twenty feet deep, and cottages of one story were entirely buried so that people dug paths from one house to another, under the snow. Old Indians of an hundred years, said their fathers had never told them of such a snow.

About 1718, potatoes were first used, as was also tea, and the ladies when going to visiting parties, each carried her tea-cup, saucer and spoon. In 1719, northern lights were first mentioned, and caused much alarm. Up to 1722, large numbers of foxes were killed in Lynn woods. In Oct., 1727, an earthquake occurred, the sea was violently agitated, and stone walls and chimneys were thrown down. In Oct., 1732, an epidemic cold affected most of the people of Lynn. The winter of 1741 was the coldest ever known in New England. In 1750, John Adam Dagyr, a shoemaker from Wales, came to Lynn. He was a skilled workman, and under his instruction the shoemakers of Lynn soon changed their clumsy methods for the more skillful means and appliances which this ancient art could furnish. The Boston Gazette of 1764 alluded to Dagyr as the "celebrated shoemaker of Essex."

On the 19th of April, 1775, four Lynn men fell at Lexington—Abednego Ramsdell, William Flint, Thomas Hadley, and Daniel Townsend. At this time there were twenty-six slaves in Lynn. In 1780, they were freed.

In Oct., 1789, George Washington passed through Lynn. On Feb. 20, 1791, the First Methodist Society was formed; and a church was built, which was dedicated the 27th of June. This was the first Methodist church in Massachusetts.

In 1793, the Post Office was established in Lynn, at the corner of Boston and Federal Streets. Col. James Robinson was the first postmaster.

In 1794, two public schools were opened in Lynn; one at the west end of the Common, in a school house built by private individuals a few years before, the other at the corner of Fayette and Collins Streets.

In 1796, the first fire-engine, seen in Lynn, was bought.

In 1800, the manufacture of morocco was introduced into Lynn. In 1803, the Boston and Salem Turnpike was built. The Lynn Hotel was built the same year. In 1822, the first circulating library was opened by Alonzo Lewis. In 1825, Mr. Charles F. Lummus published the first newspaper in Lynn. It was called the Lynn Weekly Mirror. June 20, 1826, the Lynn Institution for Savings was incorporated. On April 11, 1827, the Old Tunnel Meeting House was removed from the centre of the Common to the corner of Commercial Street. Its form was changed, a new steeple added, and it was dedicated Oct. 17. In 1830, the Lynn Record, the second newspaper in Lynn, was published by Alonzo Lewis. Jan. 1st, 1831, Dr. Aaron Lummus, one of the most popular physicians of Lynn, died. In the same year, Mr. John Alley built what was known as the "Mill Dam," near the foot of Pleasant Street. The Essex Democrat, the third Lynn newspaper, was begun this year by Benjamin Mudge. In 1832, the Weekly Messenger, the fourth newspaper was started by James R. Newhall. The first anti-slavery society in Lynn was formed this year.

Between 1830 and 1836, a great impulse was given to the shoe trade of Lynn; and during these years the town rapidly increased in wealth and population. Many new streets were opened, and a large number of shoe factories, dwelling houses and several churches were built during the decade ending 1840.

In Feb., 1833, the Baptist Meeting House on the north side of the Common was dedicated. May 28, 1834, Dungeon Rock Cave was destroyed with powder by persons expecting to obtain treasure. May 4, 1836, Rev. Parsons Cooke was installed pastor of the First Congregational Church. Aug. 28, 1838, the Eastern Railroad opened for public travel from Salem to Boston. In 1841, Lyceum Hall, Market Street, was built. This year, James R. Newhall made the first daguerreotype picture ever taken in Lynn.

The 'Essex County Whig'—afterwards the Lynn News—a weekly newspaper, was begun in 1844. The Bay State, a weekly newspaper, was started by Lewis Josselyn in 1849. In 1850, Lynn adopted a city form of government. In 1851, the High School House, on High Street, was dedicated. This school was organized in 1849, and kept for awhile in the school house on Franklin Street. In 1854, the Lynn Reporter was started by Peter L. Cox and Henry S. Cox. The Lynn Library Association was formed in 1855. The City Hall was dedicated in 1867.

THE SHOE BUSINESS.

It is only within the last thirty years that the great revolution in the shoe business began. The stitching machine was the first great invention. It was introduced into Lynn in 1852 by Mr. John Wooldredge. Soon after this the factory system was gradually introduced. One by one "little shops" were abandoned, as the factories of the manufacturers were enlarged and fitted up, so that the work both of the stitchers and makers might be done under the more immediate supervision of the employers. The second great invention was the McKay machine, for stitching bottoms. This was introduced into Lynn in 1862 by Mr. William Porter. The next was the Beating-Out Machine, introduced in 1867 by the inventor, Mr. Joseph B. Johnson, of Lynn. Numerous smaller contrivances were one by one brought into use to perfect the shoe-makers' art, until those models of elegance in the styles of boots and shoes were step by step reached.

ESTABLISHED 1867.
PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY.
Subscription Price, $2.00.

The TRANSCRIPT is a local family paper, devoted to the interests of Lynn. Its columns are kept entirely free from sensationalism and every form of demoralizing matter, and it thus gains a ready and welcome entrance into the family circles of the respectable and intelligent—the class who pay for what they buy, and whose custom, consequently, is worth having. With a large circulation of this character, its position as an advertising medium is unexcelled, while the rates for space are placed at very low figures.

L. H. PALMER, Agent, 3 Old State House.

J. R. KENDRICK, Supt.

This Comb, is equal in all respects to any in the market, and is superior to all other Horse Combs in the following particulars:—It cleans all dirt from the horse more easily and quickly than any other. It possesses greater flexibility, and thus enables the groom to curry and clean every part of the horse. It is always safe to use on the most sensitive, thin-skinned, or blooded horses; and even if a fractious and angry groom were to strike the horse with it, he could not injure him. It is the best known article for removing a horse's shedding coat. It does not break or split the hair; and horses cleaned with this Comb have a sleek, smooth and glossy coat. Horsemen and other owners of horses, will find, on trial, that this Comb will work to a charm, and give great satisfaction.

We print a few of the many Testimonials received from well known parties, respecting the value of this Comb, and touching upon some of its points of excellence and superiority to all metallic combs.

EAST SOMERVILLE, Mass., Aug. 29, 1878.

Mr. FRANK FOSS, Lynn, Mass.,

Dear Sir,—I have used one of your Patent Rubber Curry Combs on my driving horse, and find it the best thing I have ever seen for quickly cleaning off dirt, also for removing shedding hair. It is safe and unobjectionable for use on the most valuable horses. I would recommend it to the special notice of horsemen.

ALBION TOWLE, of A. Towle & Co.

OFFICE OF THE SOCIETY FOR THE PREVENTION OF CRUELTY TO ANIMALS, }
96 Tremont St., Boston, Mass., Aug. 29, 1878. }

Dear Sir,—I have your Patent Rubber Curry Comb in use, and find that it works admirably.

LYNN, Mass., Aug. 15, 1878.

Dear Sir,—I have used your Rubber Comb on the horses in my livery stable for the last six months, giving it a thorough trial, and I hereby recommend it to all owners of horses as the best Horse Comb in the market.

A. D. WALLACE, No. 8 Washington Square.

LYNN, Mass., Aug. 30, 1878.

Dear Sir,—I have in use one of your Patent Rubber Curry Combs, and find it the best Comb I have seen for cleaning off dirt; and for horses shedding hair it has no equal.

Fig. 3, View of FIG. 1.

The object of this invention is to stay Back and Front Seams in such a manner as to protect the stitch, and prevent wearing off the thread, and the consequent loosening of the Stay from the upper, which has proved a source of constant complaint, and destroyed the beauty of many a shoe before it was really but very little worn. In order to effect this improvement, the Staying is grooved, and in these grooves the stitches are sunk, while the outer edges are so turned as to answer at once to protect the stitch and strengthen the Stay, giving a neat, durable finish to the boot.

Nicholson's Patent Improved

Patented March 26, 1878 and Nov. 5, 1878.

All Parties Cautioned against

In introducing Nicholson's Improved Cutting Board to shoe manufacturers, we would call their attention to its much greater convenience and economy, while retaining all the good qualities of the thicker boards. The Improved Board is a cutting board about one inch in thickness, attached to a base with fittings, keeping it firm and solid, with an attachment for elevating the back if desirable. This Board is especially adapted for the use of Wee's Board Dressing, and will last for years if properly taken care of. The Boards are made of the very best and finest grained stock that we can procure. The Boards are filled with Wee's Dressing, ready for use. We claim that the Improved Boards have the following advantages: — They save 50 per cent. of the first outlay. Save one-half the dressing. Do away with all need of re-facing. Are more convenient and economical.

BARNEY'S PETROLEUM SOAPS.

Shaving is a Pleasure

BY USING

Barney's Deodorized Petroleum Shaving Soap

This is the only Petroleum Shaving Soap made. It is rendered very attractive by its highly agreeable perfume, and excels all other soaps for its soothing and healing properties where the skin is tender or is cut in the process of shaving. Where humor in the face renders shaving very painful, this soap will prove itself invaluable. The lather produced from it, with hot or cold water, forms easily, is lasting and softening to the beard, and shaving with it becomes a very pleasant operation, the skin being left soft, cool, and healthful in feeling.

The Roughest Skin made Smooth,
Clear and Soft

BY USING

Pure Deodorized Petroleum Toilet Soap.

PEASANTLY PERFUMED.

Possesses all the properties of the foregoing; refined and perfumed for the bath, it presses its claims as an article for the toilet, and none, once made aware of its worth, will ever be without it. As a toilet soap there is nothing in the market that can compare with it. The color of the soap is peculiar to the petroleum, and no foreign or deleterious preparation is employed to produce it, perfect purity being assured in every department of its manufacture.

MACHINERY & AXLE GREASE CO.

The Crown Machinery and Axle Grease Manufacturing Company offer to all Consumers and to the Trade generally, their thoroughly tested goods for Machinery and Axles.

Among the many claims for the "Crown Axle Grease" are, that it remains on the arm without soiling the nut, will not gum, but will last longer than ordinary oils, thereby saving time consumed in frequent greasing.

The Machinery Grease is particularly recommended to those having new machinery, as by its cooling properties it allays friction, fills the pores of the iron and makes a perfectly smooth surface, while at the same time its lasting qualities give it an advantage over other machinery oils.

The goods are all sold subject to a guarantee and put up in the following packages:

Axle Grease in 1-4 and 1-2 gross packages. Machinery Grease in 15 and 25 lb. tin pails, and in half bbls. and bbls.

Orders addressed to the Manufacturers' Agents will be promptly filled.

THE CUT represents the Boiler set in brick work when ready for use, showing the construction of the Furnace and the arrangement of the Pipe Coils and the Water and Steam Chamber within the same. Fire being built upon the grate A, the heat and products of combustion pass upward and around the Water and Steam Chamber B, and through the front Pipe Coil, then over the Bridge Wall and down through the back Pipe Coil, and out through the smoke pipe to the chimney. The Water enters the Furnace at F, and passes up the back Coil and down the front Coil to the Water and Steam Chamber, thence up the pipe O to the top of the Coils at E, thence downward and enters the Water and Steam Chamber at H, consequently when there is water in the Water and Steam Chamber, as shown by the Water Gauge, the pipes are full of water, as no water can enter said Chamber until it has passed upward to E, thence down to the bottom of the Chamber and enters at H, thereby ensuring a constant and forced circulation of the water, a condition the most favorable for a rapid and economical generation of steam, also the arrangement of the Steam Gauge, Safety Valve, Water Gauge and Automatic Draft Regulator is shown. We claim for this Boiler—

First, ECONOMY OF FUEL.—Actual tests made by weighing the coal burned and the water evaporated, and also by practical use by parties who have used other boilers, substantiate our claim that we can furnish the same amount of heat at a saving of 50 per cent. in coal.

Second, DURABILITY.—All our boilers are manufactured from the best material, all the joints are threaded joints, no packing of rubber or canvas to burn out, no danger of leakages, as the joints will become tighter by use.

Third, SAFETY.—Every Boiler is tested to 200 lbs. per square inch, Hydraulic pressure, before it is sent from the shop.

For CORNS, BRUISES and CONTRACTED FEET Clark's Patent Shoe is unsurpassed. The steel plate which covers the whole surface of the foot is far superior to the common way of using leather, as it retains the packing of tar and oakum, which subdues inflammation, protecting it from the gravel and dirt, and by pressing on the frog it causes the foot to expand to its natural shape. For Winter Travelling it is a sure protection against the balling of snow on the foot.

HOWARD'S PATENT

Improved Metallic Brushes!

WITH NICKLE PLATED RIMS.

JOSIAH W. HEAL,

Wholesale & Retail Agent for ESSEX COUNTY,
60 Washington Street, Lynn.

Dealers in Fancy Goods, AND NOTIONS.

— AND —
For Sale by Druggists

The proprietors desire to call your attention to the "IMPROVED METALLIC HAIR BRUSH." This brush is greatly superior to anything of the kind heretofore offered to the trade, and the claim that it is the strongest and most durable is fully substantiated by the brush itself.

The method of securing the rubber tooth holding surface to the wooden stock is an entirely new device, the rubber holding the pins being nailed to the back of the brush around its entire edge, making it impossible for it to become detached. A metallic rim around the edge, removing all liability of cracking or splitting in the stock of the handle, at the same time giving a very neat finish. In the manufacture of all other kinds of metallic brushes except those made in this way the teeth and rubber are adjusted to the back by a groove and bevel edge, which is a source of weakness, as the stock being thus reduced is almost sure to crack or split. By this method such a tension is got upon the holding surface that the teeth remain firm always, which is not the case with the groove and bevel edge. Having by these improvements overcome the objection to Metallic Brushes heretofore, the superiority of this brush over the bristle brush will be apparent at once to any who try them. The wire, instead of being harsh, as would seem at first thought, is quite the contrary, imparting a cooling and refreshing sensation to the scalp, and rendering a comb almost unnecessary, as the teeth separate and adjust the hair without breaking, and with a little practice making a parting much easier than a comb. The teeth and rim of this brush being made of a metal which will not rust, it can be washed and cleaned in warm water as often as wished, without injury in the slightest degree.

It is the intention to keep the reputation of these brushes superior to anything in the market, and no brush will go out which is not just as represented.
